A blue ink drawing on white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The drawing depicts a figure in a dynamic pose, possibly running or jumping, with one arm raised and legs bent. Above the figure, there is a large, irregular shape that looks like a cloud or a stylized head. The entire drawing is done in a single continuous blue line.

A photograph of a handwritten signature "Amira El Sayed" in blue ink, with the "El" and "Sayed" parts written vertically. The signature is overlaid on a faint, circular official stamp. The stamp contains Arabic text: "المعهد العالي للقانون" (The Higher Institute of Law) at the bottom, "شعبة شئون عربية" (Arabic Affairs Department) in the middle, "جامعة القاهرة" (Cairo University) at the top, and "القاهرة" (Cairo) on the right side. There is also a small five-pointed star symbol on the left side of the stamp.

The image shows handwritten notes in blue and green ink on a light-colored surface. In the upper left, there is a blue drawing of a hand holding a pencil, with several horizontal lines extending from the hand towards the left. To the right of this drawing, the word "Hand" is written vertically in blue ink. Below these, the word "Finger" is written vertically in blue ink. In the lower right area, the word "Entzündung" is written in green ink, with a curved line above it. To the right of "Entzündung", the word "Erosion" is written in green ink. Below "Erosion", the word "Gelenk" is partially visible in green ink.
